

2019 Greetings from Aldene and Barry

Health Updates from the Gordons:
Aldene's ovarian cancer is still in remission
and Barry got a new hip!

Note the line of parents and students
waiting to talk to him.

After more than a year of increasing leg pain,
Barry was finally told that he needed a new hip. The operation took place on May 21.

Many health care workers
came to our house to help him rehabilitate.
